By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dreſs proportioned to its diſtinguiſhed merit, and to the taſte of thoſe for whoſe amuſement and delight it is intended. No expence has been ſpared in the publication; and I flatter myſelf that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever publiſhed in America —— This edition has an advantage over ſome former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the Author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epiſtle which is preſixed to it, and which muſt be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taſte to admire, the juſtice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuſes of other nations

COMMUNICATION.

RULES FOR JACOBINICAL DEBATE.

The leading principle of a Jacobin is firſt to deceive and laſtly to deſtroy. If a meaſure ro repel a foreign enemy or to ſtrengthen our internal government be the ſubject of conſideration, a Jacobin in all his debates, whether in converſation among his friends, or in ſet ſpeeches before hearers, carries his principle into effect under four eſſential rules.

In the firſt place, a Jacobin declares his high approbation of the conſtitution of the United States, and profeſſes to ſupport it at the riſk of the loſs of life and fortune. Under the exerciſe of this rule he deſigns to gain the concurrence of all weak men, to thoſe miſchievous proceedings, which he is conſtantly attempting againſt his country; but men of underſtanding are never led aſtray by his pretenſions, for they know, that while he hath patriotiſm in his mouth, he hath treaſon in his heart.

Secondly, a Jacobin is warm for the privileges of the people, is ſtrenuous for the rights of man, calls himſelf a citizen of the world, and expreſſeth general benevolence for all the human race. He is apprehenſive, that government may become a tyranny, and that the poor may by oppreſſed by the rich to ſuch a degree, that they may be doomed to nothing but to pay taxes and to ſtarve for the want of bread. In ſhort, he appears to be eaten up with zeal for the good of the people. When he is proceeding through this part of his diſcourſe under the application of the ſecond rule, he attempts to acquire for his purpoſes all ambitious men, who conſtantly pretend an entire devotion to the intereſt of the people, while they purſue nothing but their own private views for riches and for power; but Federaliſts, true to the ſupport of the government and to the good of their country, and well aware of Jacobinical arts, know, that this Jacobin deſpiſes the people, is their very enemy, and deſigns nothing leſs than to rule the poor and to plunder the rich.

Thirdly, after ſome worthy patriot, who in the hour of danger is wiſe and firm for his country's good, hath, proved to every ingenuous mind the great utility and the certain propriety of the preſent propoſal, a Jacobin with more than metaphyſical ſubtlety tortures to the impatience of all honeſt men the ſubject with diſtructions and exceptions and endeavours to prove, that although the propoſed matter may abſtractedly and theoretically be beneficial, (for the poor creature is not capable of giving the propoſition a direct anſwer) yet that, at the preſent time, and in the manner at preſent propoſed, and in the preſent place, and by the preſent company, the ſubject under diſcuſſion is ſo far from being beneficial and practicable, that it will certainly be ruinous to the whole country, and that it will in every reſpect be utterly impracticable. Under the uſe of this third rule he ſhrugs up his ſhoulders, ſhakes his head, and looks very cunning. By the application of this third rule he hopes to attach to his ſide of the controverſy all ſophiſtical wiſeacres, who know how to ſave a penny and to loſe a ſtate, and who know equally well how to gain a voice and to introduce a hoſtile fleet into our harbours and an invading army into our country. An open diviſion in the company now engaged in converſation takes place; Jacobins with vice and atheiſm on one ſide, and Federaliſts with virtue and religion on the other, tongue to tongue, hand to hand, and foot to foot, in the war of words, when ſtrength of argument flow from the friends of government and nothing but uproar is heard from its enemies; while the debate is bandied all round the circle of the company.

And fourthly and laſtly, hoping that atheiſm may be ſubſtituted for the Chriſtian religion, that anarchy may ſuperſede government, and that French Democrats and their partizans may in this country as well as in others, be "At peace with the poor and at war with the rulers and the rich," as they pretend, and that he and they may live in idleneſs riot & rapine on the induſtry, labour and produce of Federaliſts, a Jacobin collects in himſelf all his ſtrength, ſummons all his party, and with animoſity againſt patriots and with bitterneſs againſt their ſteps he gives his ſentiments fully and poſitively againſt the ſubject of debate. Under the exerciſe of this fourth and laſt rule, a Jacobin expects the aſſent of all weak and ambitious men and of all ſophiſts, and of all thoſe who, like himſelf, are ſworn enemies to good government; and in this he is not diſappointed. After explicit and final declaration of ſentiments on all ſides, the reckoning is called for and paid, the company is diſſolved, and every one retires to his reſpective place of abode, the friend of order to do all the good he can, and the friend to diſorder to effect all the evil in his power. Gentle reader, if either in large or ſmall companies, in inns or elſewere, you hear any ſpeaker applying in his diſcourſe all theſe four rules of debate, you may without heſitation dub ſuch ſpeaker for a Jacobin, a French democrat, a diſorganizer, or for any other thing except a religious patriot and an honeſt man; but if he omit any one of the four rules, he is not to be deemed worthy of the high rank of a Jacobinical ſpeaker, but he is to be placed in the low grade of a partizan of ſome Jacobinical ſpeaker, and he is only to be declared to entertain Jacobinical ſentiments and to give Jacobinical voices. "By their fruits you ſhall know them." And ſo endeth the firſt book containing the rules of Democratic Debate.

APPENDIX
To the Report of the Secret Committee of the
HOUSE OF COMMONS,
Ordered to be printed on the 15th of March
1799.

APPENDIX (No. 28.)

Tranſlations of Inſtructions to Brigadier General Humbert, commanding the Secret Expedition entruſted to the Legion "des Francois."

As ſoon as the formation of the Legion and the weather will permit, General Humbert, who will have made the neceſſary arrangements reſpecting the tranſports with Vice Admiral Cornie, is to conduct his Troops to St. Malo, there to cauſe them to be embarked, and immediately to ſet ſail for the County of Cornwall, in the kingdom of England.

The Garriſon, which, in purſuance of my orders, General Humbert, is to take away from Chateauneuf, is to be replaced by General Virges; and General Humbert, on the eve of his departure, is to apprize General Virges thereof.

The Expedition muſt, if poſſible, depart in the night time: and during the paſſage the ſhips are to make all the ſail poſſible.

General Humbert is to take care that the moſt perfect order be preſerved on board.

The troops are to receive their uſual allowances; but when they are ready to diſembark, they are to be furniſhed with four days proviſions, and a double ration of brandy is to be allowed them; this they are to drink immediately, in order to refreſh themſelves after the fatigues of the voyage.

The diſembarkation muſt be effected with all poſſible expedition. The powder and ammunition muſt be carried by the Soldiers, until ſuch time as they ſhall have advanced far enough into the Country to produce bar horſes, which are then to be employed in that ſervice.

The ammunition muſt not, on any occaſion whatever, be left behind; and freſh ſupplies of it muſt be procured whenever opportunity occurs.

During the two firſt days march the Legion muſt remain undivided; and care muſt be taken to prevent any of the men from ſtruggling.

General Humbert will of courſe feel the propriety of ſpeedily advancing to a woody and mountainous ſituation before he attempts any act of hoſtility. He muſt take care to avoid ſwampy ground, not only becauſe it is unwholeſome, but becauſe he might expoſe himſelf to the danger of being ſurrounded by troops, who would certainly not fail to make uſe of the advantages which ſuch ſituations always afford.

The Expedition of General Humbert has three principal objects in view: The firſt is to put the Country into a ſtate of Inſurrection: the ſecond is to embarraſs the Commerce of our Rivals: the third is to prepare and facilitate the means of making a Deſcent, by giving the greateſt perplexity to the Engliſh Government.

The claſs of People the moſt eaſily to be moved to inſurrection, as in all Countries, is the pooreſt claſs. This may be effected by diſtributing money or drink among them; by aſcribing to the Government the public wretchedneſs; by inſtigating them, and facilitating their means to revolt, to pillage the public granaries, and to plunder the property of the Rich, whom they always regard with an eye of contempt.

It is, however, neceſſary to obſerve, that how regardleſs ſoever the Engliſh people may be of morality, they are attached to their Laws, and reſpect the Magiſtrates, even during the inſurrections which have ſometimes taken place; it will therefore be expedient to ſpare the property belonging to, or in any wiſe connected with, the civil and municipal magiſtracy. It will alſo be adviſable to purſue the ſame line of policy with reſpect to the Country Landholders and Merchants. The expences muſt then be borne by the great, the Lords (thoſe who belong to the Oppoſition Party are to be ſpared, whenever they are known), the Miniſters, the Naval and Military officers, eſpecially thoſe of the militia. The houſes, the granaries, the cattle, the foreſts, and every thing belonging to any of theſe, muſt be diſtributed among the people, or pillaged by them. Theſe calamities, which thoſe of the Republic compel us to inflict, and to which a ferocious Nation conſtrains us to expoſe it, will induce many of the labouring people and the rabble of the country to eſpouſe our cauſe; but they muſt on no account be incorporated with our own Troops; they muſt be formed into new Corps, and placed under the command of the French officer belonging to the Legion, in order that no native of the country may become acquainted with the ſtate of our force. They ſhould alſo be kept ſeparate, and as much in this reſpect as circumſtances will permit. It is principally by means of the new companies that the inſurrection will be fomented.

GEORGE TOWN, May 24.

We are informed, that the wheat-fields in a great part of Virginia are entirely deſtroyed by the inſect called the Heſſian fly; the ravages of which extend from the Potomak nearly or quite to North Carolina. Thus where verdant and flouriſhing fields of fineſt ſpecies of grain on earth, would now have promiſed the rich harveſt, there is already extenſive and dreary deſolation. The hope and joy of the huſbandman have early periſhed.

BALTIMORE, May 27.

Great damage was done by a violent thunder guſt on Friday evening laſt. Several veſſels were driven aſhore in the bay, and many ſuppoſed to be totally loſt. A perſon who arrived in town on Saturday, from the Eaſtern-ſhore, informs, that about three leagues below the bodkin, he paſſed a veſſel bottom upwards, but too deep in the water to diſcover her name—ſhe had a green bottom and appeared to be a bay packet.

Another veſſel has alſo been met with bottom up—on her ſtern the word "Faſton" was perceptible.

By this Day's Mail.

BALTIMORE, May 28.

This morning, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock a fire broke out in the bake house Mr. Patrick Millian, in South-street, said to have been occasioned by the bursting of the oven. The citizens soon turned out with their usual alacrity; but, notwithstanding every possible exertion was made by them to extinguish the flames, they in a short time spread to the buildings on Pratt-street, thence, round the corner of Pratt-street and Franklin Lane, to within one door of Wood-street—In the other direction, they extended themselves round the corner of Pratt and South-streets, to within two doors of Wood street—and left nothing but the bare walls, that was not previously removed.

The stores on the latter street and one on South-street, which are all that remain of the square, have been considerable injured.

A list of the buildings destroyed, with the names of the owners and occupiers.

William Woods, three stores, occupied by Woods, Taylor and Co.—James Piper—and William Jessop.

Redmond Barry, 1 house, by himself.

A. W. Davey, 1 store, by William Ryland.

Mr. Pascault, 1 do. by Gerard Tœpkin.

Patrick Millian, 1 house and bake do. by himself.

John Stricker, 2 do. by Rogers and Owings—and himself.

The damages sustained on this occasion are computed at 2 or 300,000 dollars.

NORFOLK, May 23.

Yesterday the following Address was presented by a committee from the mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of this Borough to capt. Truxton.

To THOMAS TRUXTON, Esq. commander of the U. S. ship of war Constellation.

SIR,

The mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen, of the Borough of Norfolk, take pleasure in welcoming you to your native shores

Amid our congratulations on your safety, and that of the brave officers and men under your command, we view it, as a circumstance or pleasing contemplation, that at a time when the interests of your country call for the exertions of its citizens, you, Sir, by your late brilliant contest, have been the first to evince, to an imperious and insulting nation, the only TRIBUTE hey can ever exact from the American character.

May your future returns to the bosom of a grateful country, be as auspicious as the present.

We are, Sir, in behalf of the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen,

Your obedient servants,

Seth Foster,
J. K. Read, } Committee

To which he returned the following Answer.

To the Mayor Recorder and Aldermen of the Borough of Norfolk.

GENTLEMEN,

I receive with unexpressible emotions (through your committee Messrs. Foster and Read) the honor you have done me by this address. To be thus welcomed to my native shores, after a fatiguing campaign, and for my conduct to have met the approbation of so honorable and so respectable a body, in one of the first states of the union, is highly gratifying to my heart, and will leave an impression on my mind, that can only be defaced by the end of my existence.

To have been the first to evince, to an imperious and insulting nation, that the thunder of cannon and showers of ball, is the only tribute they can exact from the United States, has been my good fortune—for, I have no doubt, but any of my brother commanders, in the other ships, having such a brave set of officers, and so active and determined a crew as that of the Constellation's, would have done at least as much as has been imputed to me, if chance had given them the opportunity.

Accept, fellow-citizens, my sincere thanks for your good wishes towards me in future and believe me always devoted to the honor, interest and happiness of my country.

Your obedient humble servant,

Thomas Truxton.

RICHMOND, May 21.

EXTRACT FROM THE EXAMINER.

"It is certainly necessary that the people of this country should weigh well the consequences of entering into those standing armies which are now raising in this country. Can any affectionate and prudent father willingly see his son consigned over to every vice which can disgrace human nature? Can any sensible young man engage with a body of men who have not one solitary virtue to compensate for their innumerable vils? Can he become a member of a society in which his principles will be contaminated and his moral feelings extinguished?—It is said that there are to be twenty two stations in Virginia where the recruiting business is to be carried on and that to mark out the particular places of rendezvous is one of the objects of the military officers that are now in town. It is to be hoped that for the honor of Virginia there will be but few persons so ignorant or so unprincipled as to associate with the miserable beings who generally compose standing armies. Fellow-citizens, let not their intriguing arts ensnare you, let not their handsome coats and neat appearance captivate you, let not their impudent swagger, and lofty airs frighten you into compliance. Be guarded. Freemen ought to adhere to the militia."

Richmond, May 16, '99.

REMARKS.

That the impudent swagger and lofty air of the federal troops should excite the fears of the Examiner or any other jacobin, is as natural as that they should be offensive to the French, our open enemies; the mortifying circumstance of his not being admitted to associate with them while in town, accounts for his illiberality towards those who were. It is hoped that for the honor of Virginia, there will be but few persons so ignorant or so unprincipled as to associate with the miserable beings who generally compose standing armies, but what of all other things seems to be most distressing to him, he seems to be afraid that their intriguing arts may ensnare him into an enlistment; and that their handsome coats and neat appearance may captivate—Who? Madame; but although his diminutive figure and squeaking voice (strong evidence of imbicility) may be sufficient ground for one of his fears, it most certainly secures him from the other; for his strength would not enable him to carry a musket or a drum, and his Eunuch-like voice is not suited to the fife. The soldiers are men, as well calculated to charm and give pleasure to the women as to excite the fears of jacobins.

A SOLDIER.

COMMUNICATION.

FACTION.

Among the many absurdities that attach to the opposers of our government, that of the gross perversion of language is not the least singular. If ever there was a government that could strictly be stiled the peoples that of America is one. Yet the men chosen by the people to administer it, and the great bulk of the people who support it are termed a faction. If these compose the faction in this Country, then the legitimate government is lodged some where else, And where are we to look for it? Is it at Monticello in Virginia—at Lyon's district in Vermont—is it lodged with the Kentucky Assembly—or the Irish in the suburbs of Philadelphia? Do its decrees issue from the foul pages of the Aurora, the Argus, or the Centinel of Freedom? Or are they to be gathered from the hasty resolutions of some obscure town meeting.

But the Federal cause cannot be successfully assailed by truth, by decent argument, or sound reasoning; for there is nothing in its character on which they can take hold.—No; the more it is brought to the touch-stone of truth, the brighter it shines. But calumny, like a bottomless pit of filth, is forever sending forth its noxious vapor, to obscure its beauty, and bring it down to the standard of its own deformity—a Faction! Those who apply this term to the federal government and its supporters, know they are a faction themselves; and they know the deserved odium that belongs to the character of the faction: hence it is that they apply the term to their opposers—Like the house-breaker, who thinks to escape detection by running into the street, and crying —stop thief!

CHARLESTON, May 8.

STATE OF SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By his Excellency Edward Rutledge, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the State aforesaid.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS I have received information that a malignant contagious fever now rages at the Havanna; and it being of high importance to the health of the inhabitants of this state, that measures should immediately be adopted to prevent the introduction of so great a calamity; I have, therefore, thought fit to issue this my proclamation, ordering and directing that all vessels which shall arrive in this port from the Havanna, or from any other part of the island of Cuba be brought to under the guns of Fort Johnston, and there perform a quarantine of twenty one days. And I do further order and direct that all vessels which shall arrive in this port from any part of the West-India Islands, the Spanish Main, Pensacola, or the Mediterranean, shall be subject to examination by the port physician, and to the performance of quarantine as he shall judge it necessary; and I do hereby prohibit and forbid all pilots and other persons, from bringing any of the said vessels so arriving in port, beyond Fort Johnston, until they shall have received a permit for that purpose from the port physician. And the commanding officer at Fort Johnston, the port physician, and all other officers whose duty it is to attend to the same, as hereby required to be strict and punctual in the due execution of the regulations required by this my proclamation.

Given under my hand, and the seal of the state, in the city of Charleston, the tenth day of May, Anno Domini, 1799, and in the 23d year of the independance of the United States of America.

EDWARD (L. m. s.) RUTLEDGE.

By the Governor,

ISAAC MOTTE DART, Sec'ry of State.

Yesterday arrived the brig Little Benjamin, Cooke, Teneriffe, 39 days.

The brig Little Benjamin, which arrived yesterday from Teneriffe, a vessel which was purchased in that Island by capt. Cooke, late of the ship Caroline, from London bound to this port, which was captured by a French privateer belonging to Bordeaux, and carried into that Island, where ship and cargo were condemned. The Ltlle Benjamin was an English vessel, captured by the same privateer. Several of the passengers which were on board of the Caroline, at the time of her capture, arrived yeste day with capt. Cooke.

The privateer which captured the Caroline, carried 20 guns and 170 men. Capt. Cooke had 12 guns and 17 men; with this unequal force, he fought the privateer one hour: his mate was the only man wounded; he received a musquet ball in the upper part of his cheek, which came out at the other; but he recovered, and arrived with captain Cooke. One man was wounded on board the French vessel.

The schooner Maria, of Charleston, T. Cortlett, master, sailed from Philadelphia the 28th of March, laden with flour, tallow and some dry goods. April 2d, in lat. 25, 27. N. long. 74. 53. W. at half past one o'clock, P. M. a violent whirlwind upset the Maria, there being at the same time no appearance whatever of a squall or hard gale in two minutes after the schooner was filled with water, whereupon the master and his crew made every exertion to right her again, and for this purpose cut away all her sails from the masts and yards—having staid by the vessel until ten o'clock, P. M. they were then obliged to quit her and take to their boat; they endeavoured to keep the head of the boat to the sea, but the wind blowing very fresh from the westward, a heavy sea filled the boat with water several times during the night. At six o'clock A. M. made for the schooner; at ten o'clock got along side, when one of the men got into the weather cabin window, got a hand saw and cut away both masts, whereupon she righted a little; but at two o'clock, P. M. they were once more compelled to take to their boat, there being a heavy sea from W. N. W. In day light they directed their course by the sun, and during the night by the stars for four days.

On the 6th April, they were fortunately picked up by the sloop Peggy, capt. Joseph Smith, of Rhode-Island, capt. Cortlett and his crew being almost ready to perish with hunger and fatigue.

On the 11th of April, made the island of Bermuda; spoke a fishing boat, on board of which captain Smith put the master and crew of the Maria.

The next day they landed at the town of Hamilton in the island of Bermuda, and were treated very politely by the inhabitants, who raised by subscription 120 dollars for their relief, and afforded every requisite attendance on the sick.

PHILADELPHIA,

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 30.

CONFIRMATION,

Defeat of the French.

Extract of a Letter received by a Merchant of this city, dated

LONDON, April 10 '99.

"The French have received a severe check from the Austrians, in a battle which took place lately. They lost upwards of 2000 men; this event is likely to give a new turn to the affairs on the continent. I pray, most sincerely these infamous despots may be crushed and blotted from the face of the earth.

"This goes by the Minerva to Boston, which is to run (and will be out before the fleet) a packet."

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, dated 19th March, 1799.

"I have learned from various quarters, that the gallant defence made by our armed merchant vessels against French privateers, in several instances, has greatly tended to inspire a respect in the crews of the latter for our flag. Captain Gamaliel Bradford, commanding the ship Mary of Boston, carrying 25 men and 10 four pounders, has acquired much reputation by repulsing two French privateers of superior force, and entering safe at Malaga, a few days ago, with a valuable cargo of fish and sugar. He had not a man killed or wounded. The French privateers soon followed him into the same port, having had two men killed and thirteen wounded—some of them mortally. Letters from Algeciras advise, that the French privateers, which have so long infested the streights of Gibraltar, are now very cautious in not approaching near American vessels, until it be ascertained whether they are well armed or not."

Extract of a Letter from a respectable mercantile house at Lisbon, to a correspondent in this City, dated 27th March 1799.

"A large force is preparing in England to defend this country, so that we have not any apprehensions even if the French should make an attack on it."

"A Federalist" shall be attended to.

Mr. James Carey is not interested in the new paper, mentioned in an article under the New-York head, in yesterday's Gazette.

This day's Mail, our readers will perceive, brings melancholy news of the further ravages of that destroying element, Fire: Property to the amount of half a million of dollars, is said to have been destroyed in this single instance. Whilst distress in its most horrid forms, is thus repeatedly visiting other cities, how grateful should the citizens of Philadelphia be for their remarkable preservation from this devouring element. It should not, however, be forgotten, that it is to the wise regulations of our corporation, that, under God, we have owed our escape hitherto, and in this view, we ought never to forget the man, (whom men vicious as himself would now reward with civic honors) to whom we are indebted for the nullification of the most salutary and necessary provision that ever was fallen upon for a populous city.

Colonel Silas Talbot of the American navy, heretofore appointed to command the United States' frigate now building in New York, is to command the Constitution, of 44 guns, vice Captain Nicholson.

The Montezuma sloop of war will proceed on a cruise this day or to-morrow, under the command of Capt. Mullowny, late first lieutenant on board the United States.

Capt. Murray, late of the Montezuma, is to be removed to another vessel.

The quarantine of the sloop of war Delaware, Captain Decatur, will be out this day, when she will come up to the city.

On Monday next, the 3d of June,

WILL START,

THE

SWIFT-SURE,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

To run daily between PHILADELPHIA and NEW-YORK, by the short and pleasant Road of

BUSTLETON, NEWTOWN, SCOTCH-PLAINS SPRINGFIELD AND NEWARK.

THE excellence of this Road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-fare from Philadelphia to New-York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in Winter and Summer, has been clearly ascertained. There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton ferry. This Road is several miles shorter than the Old Road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depends on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the far greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country and a considerable proportion of shade, will render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The SWIFT-SURE will start at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth Street, Philadelphia. It will go through Frankford to Bustleton, where it will stop to breakfast; from Bustleton it will go through Newtown to Pennytown to dinner; from Pennytown through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield, to Scotch-Plains to lodge. The next morning it will stop at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it will go through Newark, and arrive at New-York by noon.

Fare for passengers, 5 Dollars,
Way passengers, 6 cents per mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken onby a passenger will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to Packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other Lines of Stages, they think must meet with general approbation.—They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the Stage Book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay, (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons, it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be aptional with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the Route the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and Taverns as shall always afford good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates. The Stages are all well-equipped, furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent, sober and obliging drivers. The Proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the Stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ will be continually an object of their attention. They will take care also to see, that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the Taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence shall be practised upon them: in short, they are resolved, that neither pains nor expence shall be wanting to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best Line of Stages in America.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in thoſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt inеſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

G. SHAW,

Reſpectfully informs the public, he has received from

ROBERT JOHNSTON,

Apothecary, No. 20, Green ſtreet, Soho, London, a freſh and very conſiderable ſupply of his highly eſteemed Medicine.

AWARE of the depredations made on every public medicine of eſtabliſhed repute and extenſive ſale, R. Johnſton, obtained the King of England's Patent for his invention, not "to recommend" but "to diſtinguiſh," Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard from

SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

"Five years have now elapſed ſince Mr. Johnſton firſt made known to the world this very extraordinary medicine; during this ſhort period, its efficacy has been ſo clearly demonſtrated that its ſale has far exceeded any former example; comparitively there are few families in England or the United States which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects and with heartfelt ſatisfaction he had the happineſs to declare Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard has cured more perſons afflicted with Rheumatisms, Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies.

Than all the Medicines ever before made public, indeed, the inſtances, of its efficacy and letters of acknowledgment from "the moſt reſpectable characters" are ſo numerous that a large volume could not poſſibly contain them, it has alſo obtained the approbation of the moſt eminent men of the faculty and is honoured by the uſe and recommendation of the firſt families in England, Ireland and America.

A COUNTERFEIT.

R. JOHNSTON has reaſon to believe a large quantity under the name of "Improved Eſſence of Muſtard," as well as many others has been ſhipped for America, and conſiders it his duty to prevent impoſition and diſappointment.

He therefore requeſts the afflicted to be particular in the purchaſe of his bottles, boxes, labels, and bill of directions which are cloſely copied, and words "by royal authority," artfully ſubſtituted for the words "by the king's patent' which may elude common obſervation.

The Genuine is diſtinguiſhed by the ſignature of R. Johnſton, in his own hand writing on each label, and as an additional ſecurity is further ſigned on the outſide wrapper by his only agent for the United States, G. SHAW, No. 129 Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, by whom it is ſold wholeſale and retail, in pills and in a fluid ſtate at one dollar each, box or bottle

FOR CHILBLAINS, SPRAINS AND BRUISES,

It is a certain and effectual remedy, ſeldom requiring more than three or four applications.

To the candid and liberal of the FACULTY, R. Johnſton reſpectfully ſubmits the following obſervations. The Fluid Eſſence of Muſtard, is an embrocation worthy their particular attention, it differs in its nature from all others, and is out of the beaten track of general practice—It is an active ſtimulant, eaſily controuled, may be either increaſed or diminiſhed in its ſtrength by the different methods of uſe, it is both elegant and convenient and is freqnently found in the extemporaneous preſcriptions of their brethren in England.

The above Genuine Medicine, as well as many others of the firſt celibrity may be had by appointment of G. Shaw, of Mr. G. Bailey, Wilmington, Dr. Barrill, Maiden Lane, New-York, Meſſrs. Bailey and Walker, Charleſton, William Black, Salem, (N. J.) Charles Hunitch, Lancaſter, A. C. Jorden, Norfolk, John Roberts, do. David Keen, Sweet Springs, Virginia, R. Lee, Baltimore, I. & J. Mantz, Fredericktown, Maryland, G. W. Mancius, Albany, Dr. Vanſolingen. New-York, Meſſrs. Titford & Son, do. Meſſrs. Roſs & Douglas, Pittſburg, John Webſter, Wilmington, James Wilſon, do. Richard Winter & Co. Savannah, and in every principal town in the United States.

N. B. The public are deſired to enquire for Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard, all others being a baſe and ſpurious imitation.

GEO. SHAW.

"Caution againſt Counterfeits."

Agents are appointed by G. Shaw in every principal town of the United States, and there is no certainty of purchaſing the Genuine Eſſence of Muſtard in any part of America, unleſs it is ſigned on the outſide wrapper by G. Shaw, No. 129, Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, where ſhopkeepers are ſupplied and a liberal diſcount allowed them.
